03 Legislative & Regulatory Tracker — Who Wins, Who Loses (desk view)

Jurisdiction	Legislation / Policy Change	Affected Sector(s)	Net Impact & Strategic Outlook
Local — Pakistan	The NA Standing Committee on Commerce cleared the Anti-Dumping Duties (Amendment) Bill 2026: provisional duties for 6–9 months, appeal window cut from 45 to 30 days, Islamabad High Court as forum (not yet enacted). Also: FBR Rule 38B e-scrutiny.	Domestic producers, importers, downstream users	Wins: domestic producers seeking faster, longer trade relief [EST.]. Loses: importers and downstream users facing higher input costs; litigants with shorter appeal windows [EST.]. Net: mildly protectionist; watch NA passage and IMF views on tariffs [EST.].
GCC — Saudi Arabia	Cabinet approves a State Revenues Law (see Gulf Business) and a new training visa; detailed provisions not yet published.	Government-linked entities, contractors, fee-paying businesses, sovereign debt	Wins: Ministry of Finance and bondholders through tighter revenue collection as oil slips [EST.]. Loses: entities that rely on ad-hoc fees or retained revenues [EST.]. Net: a fiscal-discipline signal alongside PIF's search for funding [EST.].
Global — US	Fed policy: a December hike is almost fully priced (CME FedWatch ~87% for 25bp, ~13% for 50bp) after core CPI +0.3% m/m (Kitco, Reuters).	Banks, long-duration tech, gold, EM FX and debt	Wins: the US dollar, bank net interest margins and cash [EST.]. Loses: gold (now under $4,000), EM importers and frontier FX [EST.]. Net: tighter global conditions; for Pakistan, oil and fuel prices matter more in the near term [EST.].

04 The Day Ahead — KSE-100 Levels & Desk Stance (Thursday 12 November)

SUPPORT EST.
178,228
S1; then 177,372 (S2)

PIVOT EST.
179,498
classic pivot off Wednesday's high 180,769, low 178,642 and close 179,084

RESISTANCE EST.
180,355
R1; then 181,625 (R2)

Desk stance — Cautious; range trade between 178,228 and 180,355 after a failed break of 180,000. Wednesday's reversal from 180,769 shows supply above 180,000, yet the index held most of Tuesday's 5,449-pt gain. Asia opens with US tech futures lower on the Nvidia news (Nasdaq-100 futures −0.9%) and the dollar at a 19-month high, but cheaper fuel from today (petrol Rs335) helps sentiment and inflation. A close above 180,355 reopens 181,625; a close under 179,498 points to 178,228 then 177,372. Drivers. (1) Whether the Nvidia sell-off spreads across global risk. (2) An almost fully priced December Fed hike (~87%), US jobless claims today and PPI Friday. (3) Iran/Hormuz headlines and oil near $91–93. (4) IMF Board timing for the ~$1.21bn tranche. Positioning. Quality banks, fertiliser and E&P on dips toward 178,228; trim into 180,355; avoid chasing third-tier volume leaders [EST.]. Mood: Cautious — range-bound 178,228–180,355 after a failed 180k break; the Nvidia shock and a firm dollar temper the AI rebound.

Run note: compiled ~06:30 PKT and updated ~08:30 PKT Thursday with this morning's news. PSX and US figures are Wednesday 11 Nov closes (PSX via ARY, Business Recorder and The Nation; US via TheStreet and Kitco, cross-checked with 24/7 Wall St). USD/PKR 276.62 is the Wednesday interbank close (Mettis, Business Recorder). Oil settlements and gold/silver spot are from Kitco's PM report.
