01 Five Things You Need To Know To Start Your Day

KSE-100 TOPS 180,500

The benchmark closed Monday at 180,502.44, up 397.83 points (0.22%) from Thursday's 180,104.61 (PSX was shut Friday for Independence Day), on volume of 511.22m shares, as buying in oil & gas marketing, exploration and refinery names offset selling in banks, cement and fertilizer. Breadth was negative (43 advancers vs 57 decliners), so the headline gain was narrower than it looks. Sources: Business Recorder, Mettis Global. Sentiment: firmer, narrow.

WALL STREET SLIDES AS HORMUZ DEAL LAPSES

The S&P 500 fell 40.70 points (0.5%) to 7,745.06, the Dow dropped 272.63 (0.5%) to 53,459.78 and the Nasdaq lost 84.25 (0.3%) to 26,644.91 after the 60-day US-Iran memorandum on the Strait of Hormuz expired without a successor deal and President Trump threatened action against Oman. Sources: AP via KVUE, Yahoo Finance. Sentiment: risk-off.

30-YEAR YIELD HITS 19-YEAR HIGH

The 10-year Treasury yield climbed to 4.72% and the 2-year rose to 4.18%, while the 30-year surged past 5.31% — its highest level since 2007 — as Fed Chair Kevin Warsh signalled a rate hike may not be his preferred inflation tool, and mounting government-debt concerns compounded the Hormuz-driven risk premium. Sources: CNBC, Trading Economics. Sentiment: hawkish, yields spiking.

CRUDE FIRMS AS HORMUZ TRUCE LAPSES

WTI jumped 3.09% to $84.95/bbl while Brent held near $88.31/bbl as the interim US-Iran ceasefire formally expired and talks to reopen the Strait of Hormuz remained deadlocked, even as covert crude flows through the waterway capped further gains. Sources: Trading Economics, CNBC. Sentiment: firm, geopolitically driven.

GOLD HOLDS ABOVE $4,400, SILVER NEAR $66

Gold traded near $4,440/oz, up modestly after soft US retail sales data (-0.6% in July) trimmed rate-hike odds, while silver climbed 1.3% to $65.66/oz; both remain well off gold's 2026 record above $5,000 but supported by continued Chinese central-bank buying. Sources: Yahoo Finance, Trading Economics. Sentiment: firm, safety bid.

02 Regional Market & Economic Matrix

A. Local Market — Pakistan Focus

Pakistan's headline CPI eased to 9.2% y/y in July from 11.1% in June, still above the SBP's 5–7% target band, after the Monetary Policy Committee held the policy rate at 11.5% for a second straight meeting. The KSE-100's push through 180,500 on Monday was powered almost entirely by energy names riding firmer international crude, while banks and fertilizers lagged — breadth stayed negative (43 gainers vs 57 losers), a reminder the rally lacks broad participation. Attention now turns to September, when an IMF mission is expected in Islamabad for the fourth EFF/second RSF review that could unlock roughly $1.2bn, with energy-sector circular-debt reforms the key test.

B. GCC & Middle East

Saudi Arabia's non-oil private sector stayed expansionary for a fourth straight month, with the Riyad Bank PMI easing only slightly to 53.1 in July from 53.3 in June, even as export orders fell for a fifth month on high freight costs. The PIF's newly published 2026–2030 strategy prioritises tourism, urban development, advanced manufacturing, logistics, clean energy and NEOM, alongside reporting strong FY2025 revenue and profit growth. The Hormuz standoff — the interim US-Iran memorandum expired Monday without a successor deal — is a near-term fiscal tailwind for Gulf exporters via firmer crude, even as it raises shipping and insurance-cost risk for the region.

C. Global Intelligence

Wall Street fell Monday — S&P 500 –0.5% to 7,745.06, Dow –0.5% to 53,459.78, Nasdaq –0.3% to 26,644.91 — after the 60-day US-Iran memorandum governing the Strait of Hormuz expired without a successor deal, President Trump threatened action against Oman, and a senior Iranian official floated an "offensive policy" if diplomacy fails. The 30-year Treasury yield surged past 5.31%, its highest since 2007, and the 10-year rose to 4.72% as Fed Chair Kevin Warsh signalled a hike may not be his preferred tool against inflation, compounding debt-driven pressure on long yields. WTI jumped 3.1% to $84.95/bbl on the Hormuz risk premium, while gold held above $4,400/oz (silver $65.66, +1.3%) on softer US retail sales, both still well off 2026's record above $5,000.

03 Legislative & Regulatory Tracker — Who Wins, Who Loses

Jurisdiction	Legislation / Policy Change	Affected Sector(s)	Net Impact & Strategic Outlook
Local — Pakistan	IMF fourth EFF / second RSF review preparations begin ahead of a September mission, focused on energy circular-debt targets; SBP holds policy rate at 11.5% as July CPI eases to 9.2%.	Banks, IPPs, Energy, Sovereign bonds	Wins: exporters and energy-linked equities if the ~$1.2bn tranche clears, easing FX reserve pressure. Losses: banks and rate-sensitive sectors, which had priced in an earlier cut that the hold denies them.
Regional — GCC	Saudi Arabia's new Copyright Law took effect August 12 , modernising IP protection for digital/AI-era content; UAE's merger-control executive regulations took force July 30 .	Media/IP, Tech, M&A, Dealmakers	Wins: content creators, rights holders and compliant multinationals gaining clearer IP and antitrust certainty. Losses: platforms and acquirers facing new compliance costs and longer merger-clearance timelines.
Global	The US-Iran interim Strait of Hormuz memorandum expired Monday without a successor deal ; Fed Chair Kevin Warsh signals a hike may not be his preferred inflation tool even as long-dated yields hit multi-decade highs.	Rates, Energy, Equities, USD, Shipping/Insurance	Wins: energy producers and the dollar on the risk premium; Gulf exporters via firmer crude. Losses: rate-sensitive growth equities, EM borrowers facing costlier dollar funding, and shippers exposed to Hormuz transit risk.

RESISTANCE EST.

Monday's intraday high; then round-number resistance at 182,000

We read Monday's KSE-100 move as narrow strength: the headline print flatters a session in which decliners outnumbered advancers 57 to 43, and the entire gain was concentrated in energy names tracking firmer WTI. That makes the tape vulnerable to a reversal if Hormuz tensions ease or profit-taking hits oil & gas counters. Offshore, a spiking long end of the US Treasury curve — the 30-year at a 19-year high — and an unresolved Hormuz standoff argue for caution on risk assets broadly, while Gulf non-oil momentum and Pakistan's improving inflation trajectory remain the more durable medium-term supports. All levels are indicative desk estimates, not recommendations.
